Brook Issues Resolved

Five items still to be taken care of before completion of the second phase of Rogers Brook construction, are in the hands of the state department of public works, division of waterways, which supervised the project.

Selectmen Sidney P. White and William Stewart met with district engineers Tuesday morning, who agreed the matters needed attention before the expiration of the contract.

The two selectmen then went to Boston and met with John T. Hannon, district chief engineer of the DPW division of waterways, who agreed the matters needed attention and also said they would be taken care of quickly.

The board members, with the approval of their colleagues and Acting Town Manager Wendell Mattheson, had the Tuesday morning meeting and were in and out of Boston before noon.

The second phase of the Rogers Brook project piped the waterway from Whittier street to meet the first portion which was completed as far as Main street near the town hall.

Still to be completed, according to the list given the DPW Tuesday are the resurfacing of areas near the baseball field off Whittier street and repair of some ce-

Dump Control, Hours Changed

Stanley Chlebowski, highway superintendent, has been put in charge of the operation of the town's sanitary land fill disposal site.

The decision was made by the selectmen Monday night, who also agreed with Chlebowski to extend the hours. The decision reversed that of former Town Manager Richard J. Bowen who had placed the dump control in charge of Mrs. Elizabeth Nadeau, R.N., of the Health department.

New hours at the dump provide for it opening at 7 a.m. and closing at 6 p.m. It will remain closed on Sunday.

The board also agreed to a proposal by Selectman Sidney P. White to purchase excess gravel being removed at the West school construction site for 65 cents per yard to be stockpiled at the dump.

Additional fencing to prevent the spread of debris from the dump is also being examined. It is believed funds are available from last year's account for this purpose.

IN MEMORIAM. Veterans Agent Elmer S. Ober is shown placing one of hundreds of flags and markers on graves of Andover veterans. Assisted by members of American Legion Post 8, the flags and markers were placed last Sunday. This particular location is the American Legion lot in Spring Grove cemetery. The practice takes place annually prior to Memorial Day.

The Rohrbachs Are Going Home

(A TOWNSMAN News Feature)

According to Heinrich Rohrbach, Andover nurseryman, horticulturist, author, conservationist and president of the German School in Lawrence, it's time to retire. Yesterday, Mrs. Rohrbach returned from a trip to Germany with a lease, beginning in August, to a house in the Black Forest spa of Baden-Baden, Germany, to which they will retire.

Today, Heinie Rohrbach is probably burlapping rhododendrons at his Heatherfells Nursery on Sunset Rock Road in Andover.

Tomorrow is graduation day at the German School in Lawrence and it will mark the first formal step in Rohrbach's retirement from an exceedingly active part in community affairs. Six children will graduate from the German school at the 8 p.m. ceremonies attended by Mayor Daniel P. Kiley, the executive committee, parents and friends, and Heinrich Rohrbach will step down after 29 years as president. It is the only school in a radius of many miles where younger children can study the German language, in afternoon sessions after regular school hours.

Rohrbach feels he leaves the school in good hands and a strong position. He told the TOWNSMAN that years ago the school was supported only by Germans who had immigrated to this country, but now it has a wider basis of enrollment and support, and a strong executive committee. These, said

Heinrich Rohrbach

Rohrbach, represent interest in children learning German in their formative years, as a second language, and for its importance to scientific, medical and engineering careers.

But Heinie Rohrbach will be missed by hundreds of Andover citizens who have never learned a word of German.

For a third of a century, at Heatherfells Nursery on Sunset Rock Road, Rohrbach has been in the business of helping people to have beautiful surroundings.

His public service to Andover has been to help the community to appreciate and preserve the natural beauty it is fortunate to possess. He was one of the original members of Andover's Conservation Commission, served on it for nine years, and was its chairman for six years.

Rohrbach has also lectured to garden clubs around the state, authored articles for the International Dendrological Society (that's trees!) and horticultural periodicals here and abroad.

Language is an avocation, and he urges all to the study of a second language, pointing out that English made the great mistake of throwing the genders out. "English is excellent for trade and business, but has only that non-descript 'it'. All the most beautiful plants have feminine names!"

Rohrbach's touch with shrubs, his tree-sense and his garden design will remain evident in Andover for years and years after the Rohrbachs return to Germany, but nowhere more than at 57 Sunset Rock Road, where over the years since 1936, a meadow and chicken farm has been transformed into a site of tremendous natural beauty.

A purple weeping crabapple is in bloom this week on a terraced level, bordered with spring bulbs, behind the Rohrbach's house.

Rohrbach brought the crabapple from his native Germany in 1934. It was named for his teacher at the horticultural school in Berlin-Dahlem where he was trained.

On a clear day, you can see the Bedford Hills and Mount Wachusett, from the Rohrbach's back door, but the near view of flowering shrubs, trees and flowers is just as rewarding.

Why leave all this? "I am getting stiff and old, and can no longer repair the damage

Moderator Names Three To Fincom

Richard C. MacGowan, 54 High Plain Road, has been appointed to the Finance committee by Moderator Arthur Williams.

His appointment brings the board to its full seven man complement.

In a letter to Town Clerk Irving O. Piper Monday, Williams also reappointed Harold T. Cookson, 197 River Road and Arthur Heifetz, 77 Wildwood Road. Cookson has served for the past several years, while Heifetz was appointed last year to fill a vacancy and now is named to a full three year term.

At The Wall

Complaint Follows Assault

Police Wednesday were seeking complaints in Lawrence District Court against an 18-year-old Andover youth who allegedly assaulted a man in front of the Musgrove building Monday afternoon.

The alleged assault took place following comments made by a youth at the "wall" in Elm square.

The incident prompted Philip G. Dantos, local store and real estate owner, to confront the selectmen Monday night. The board is to confer with police officials on the matter in an effort to resolve the problem of congregating, drinking youths.

Dantos told the board Monday night that a group of youths, who he referred to as "hoodlums," beat up a man in front of the Musgrove building Monday afternoon.

Dantos told the board that the man was employed in the Standard International Building and had parked his car on Essex street on his way to work.

Walking across the square and across what is referred to as the "wall" in Elm Square, one youth commented in vile language to the man. The man asked who the youth was talking to and received the reply, you, along with do you want to do something about it. The man replied in the affirmative.

The two then walked across the street, according to Dantos, and

Sargent Plan Under Scrutiny

The selectmen have tabled any action on the proposed "floor plan" of Gov. Francis Sargent, who has proposed a tax bill which would guarantee towns and cities income from the local aid fund.

Selectman Philip K. Allen asked the board Monday to go on record as approving the plan, but the members asked for time to study the proposal before putting themselves on record.

Under present plans, Andover is promised $1,176,302.47, but possibly would not receive that amount, depending on the condition of the state budget. Under Sargent's proposed guaranteed plan, the town would receive $1,375,792.27.

Allen told the board that Sargent's plan was similar to one contained in a bill filed by Rep. Paul W. Cronin and thought it noteworthy that the local legislator was interested in providing full funds to the towns and cities, similar to what Gov. Sargent had proposed.

Additional induction and participation in Order of the Arrow ordeal ceremonies will be scheduled during June or August at Camp Onway.

Troop 70 Presents Honors

At the regular Friday meeting of Troop 70 of Andover, Scoutmaster Paul Hale presented the Tenderfoot Badge to George Khoury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mooney of Ballardvale. The tenderfoot badge marks the beginning of a boy's progress in scouting.

Edward Frederick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Frederick of Ballardvale, has been awarded a high honor for his activity in scouting. Frederick has been elected Junior Assistant Scoutmaster of the troop which will attend the National Jamboree in Idaho this summer. As a member of the Jamboree staff for his troop, he will be responsible for the leadership of boys in the Lowell council.

The Troop 70 project for this month has been the setting up of an archery range in the basement of Christ Church, the sponsoring institution. The boys are learning the rule of archery safety and technique and having a good deal of fun in the process.

Program Expanded At Pike

Arrangements have been completed to include in the Pike School Young Explorers summer program ten children nominated by the International Institute in Lawrence.

The program dedicates itself to the development of the creative aspects of young children's early learning by an offering balanced between the observations of nature and the experiencing of creative expression through art and music.

The ten nominees of the International Institute will join up to 40 youngsters between the ages of three and eight who have elected to spend five weeks under the guidance of the school's staff. In addition to the formal offering, experience has shown that there is a valuable contribution to a child's growth in the interchange of cultural influences.

The session is scheduled to run each morning, Monday through Friday, between 9 a.m. and 12 noon, from June 30 through Aug. 1. Placement is offered on a first come basis to all who apply. Detailed information can be obtained by calling the school. Directors include Mrs. Richard Hornidge, Mrs. Alan K. Porter, and Mrs. Eugene C. Graves.

ON DEAN'S LIST

One student from this area has been named to the dean's list at Duke University for the fall semester on the basis of high academic standing, having achieved an overall academic average of at least a 3.0 of a possible 4.0.

He is Kenneth N. Musen, son of Mrs. Florence Foabe, 45 Hidden Road.

The Gap Was Narrowed

By Helen Eccles

Andover High School students turned up a phenomenon of human nature last week. All the gaps between people are not generation gaps.

They learned from each other that when the principles of one set of people conflict with the principles of another, the atmosphere can be charged with electricity. Emotions can be so intense, so polarized, that understanding and tolerance, and even communications, can break down and need rebuilding.

The issue at Andover High last week was armbands. The armband which a solitary student wore for over two weeks attracted little attention until another student tore it off last Wednesday. There was some scuffling; five boys were involved in all.

A group of students wore armbands Thursday and more on Friday, to demonstrate that private feelings against, or disagreement with, a fellow student is no reason to interfere with his right to free expression. An opposing group was troubled by the possible implications of the armbands, variously rumored, and felt they made trouble in the school. Emotions ran high. The result: disruption and trouble at Andover High.

Principal Philip Wormwood heard criticism from many sides, for not handing out judgments on the issue immediately. But the high school principal felt that there were sincere convictions, as well as strong feelings, on both sides, and he chose to keep the situation fluid. He was concerned with helping two groups of people gain some understanding and tolerance of each other's views.

After meeting with the two groups separately, Wormwood and Social Studies teacher Thomas Curtin spent most of Thursday afternoon and Friday morning attending and sometimes participating in a long dialogue between the opposing groups, approximately 40 students.

Wormwood has praise for the development of the dialogue and told the TOWNSMAN he felt that "fast decisive action" on his part would have hindered it. He also met with parents over the weekend.

After the students' discussions, the final faculty decisions (prohibiting armbands because of their disruptive influence in the school, and penalizing the students involved in the fight to remove the original armbands) may well have seemed anticlimactic. The real interest and significance seemed to lie in the communication and dialogue between disagreeing members of the present generation of Andover high schoolers.

If the participants have gained, and given each other, any expertise in understanding the other person's point of view, and in resolving explosive situations, this has been good education indeed.

As young adults, they doubtless have long careers ahead of them of observing the same phenomenon - the polarizing of emotions in explosive situations - in national politics, town government, neighborhood and even family affairs.

The attitudes of constructive human relations - objectivity, tolerance and understanding - will be great assets to them, may even land them in "Who's Who".

Meanwhile, this week, Principal Philip Wormwood was musing: "I wonder if there's some way we could incorporate a course on that, some sort of human relations training, into a high school curriculum?"

SEPARATED CROSS symbolizes separated church to three churches in downtown Andover which seek to speed church union. Laymen Harry Loebel of Christ Episcopal Church, Clarence Chapman of South Church and James Trenholm of Free Christian Church, backed by their ministers, hold their churches' wooden crosses. Each cross bears one segment of a shining brass cross which is bolted together and whole only when the three churches worship together in one place.

Grassroots Church Unity

Three downtown Andover Churches have begun a grassroots movement toward Christian unity in Andover.

Their symbol is a cross of shining brass, separated into three pieces, which are joined together only when South Church, Christ Church and the Free Christian Church are worshipping together, as they did in midweek services all through Lent.

Their ecumenical movement goes beyond symbols to plans for action. Their ministers, the Reverends J. Everett Bodge of South Church, J. Edison Pike of Christ Episcopal Church and J. Allyn Bradford of the Free Christian Church, are talking in terms of joint programs in Christian education, youth group work, hospital visiting of patients from the three parishes, canvassing for pledges and joint offices in a combined church administration building.

Here, Rev. Mr. Pike pointed out enough money might be saved just on present duplication of administrative personnel, equipment and supplies, to provide for having a professional psychologist or psychiatrist at the office, parttime at least, to supplement ministerial counseling.

The national denominations of these churches, and six others, joined six years ago in the Conference on Church Unity, aiming at eventual union between eight denominations. But the Reverends Pike, Bradford and Bodge decided not to hold their breath waiting for action on the national level, but start the action at the parish level in Andover.

Two men and one woman from each parish will meet this Sunday to discuss carrying out these explorations into grassroots Christian unity. No action can be taken until there have been commitments by the governing body of the churches, the Planning Council of Free Church, the Prudential Committee of South Church and the vestry of Christ Church. These bodies will be meeting next fall to consider the possibilities explored by the ministers, and the key lay parishioners who meet this Sunday.

Denominations beyond the Episcopal Church and Christian Church, which includes both the Free Church and South Church, participating in the Conference on Church Unity at the national level are the United Methodist Church, the African Methodist Episcopal Church, the United Presbyterian Church in the USA, the United Church of Christ, the African Methodist Zion Church, the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, the Presbyterian Church in the United States and the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

As an evidence of the ecumenical spirit of this age, some of the denominations who began the COCU group six years ago have united among themselves.

The Rev. J. Allyn Bradford said that the local movement toward unity takes place within the larger framework of not only the Conference on Christian Unity, between the Protestant groups, but ever closer work and discussions with the Roman Catholic Church.

Vast areas of Australia, once deserts, have become productive. It was found that the soil did not contain molybdenum, a necessary metallic element for vegetation. Properly distributed, an ounce of molybdenum will activate an acre for several years, the Massachusetts Audubon Society says.

John A. McQuaid

John A. McQuaid, vice president-factory manager of Converse Tyer Division, has been promoted to the newly-created position of Director of Manufacturing for Converse Rubber Company, according to an announcement by John P. O'Neil, vice president-manufacturing.

McQuaid, who has been serving in the vice-president-factory manager position at Andover since 1963, will be succeeded at the Converse Tyer Division by Leo F. Belliveau, who has been promoted from his former post of factory superintendent at the company's Malden headquarters facility since 1962.

In his new position, McQuaid, with Converse since June 1952, will be responsible for production in all plants. Converse Rubber Company, is one of the nation's largest manufacturers of canvas athletic, sports and leisure footwear, as well as foul weather clothing and canvas and rubber sports equipment. Besides its Malden and Andover facilities, the company also operates plants in Berlin, N.H.; Presque Isle, Maine; Bristol and Pawtucket, R.I. and Canovanas, Puerto Rico. Presently it employs nearly 5,000.

McQuaid, known for his activities in the Greater Andover business and industrial community, is a native of Medford and a graduate of Malden Catholic High school. He received a bachelor of science degree from Merrimack College in 1952 and later attended courses in industrial engineering at Northeastern University.

Shortly after his graduation in June of 1952, he joined Converse as an order clerk in the shipping department. Less than a year later, in February 1953, he was promoted to a position of junior industrial engineer.

In September of 1957, McQuaid received a new assignment, that of factory superintendent at Converse Granite State Division, Berlin, N.H. Five years later he was transferred to Converse Tyer Division as manager, industrial engineering and in May of 1963 assumed the duties of vice president-factory manager at Converse Tyer Division.

McQuaid, his wife and six children reside in North Reading. Effective immediately his business office will be located at Converse Malden headquarters.

The new vice president-factory manager of Converse Tyer Division, has held a previous assignment at that facility. In March of 1962, shortly after Converse Rubber Company acquired the Tyer Rubber Company, Belliveau was named general superintendent with the task of coordinating Tyer production operations with those of the parent company. Later, in October of that same year, he was appointed factory superintendent at Malden.

Belliveau, a native of Wakefield, was educated in Malden parochial schools and graduated from Malden Catholic High school. He later completed several electrical engineering courses at Northeastern University, and joined Converse in September 1939 as a shipping clerk. During World War II, from 1942 to 1946, he served with the U.S. Army Eighth Air Force in England as a flight engineer. Upon his discharge from the service he rejoined Converse and advanced through various production executive assignments to General Foreman of all Making Departments in 1956. He held this spot until 1962.

Most recently, in addition to his duties as factory superintendent at Malden, Belliveau has been serving as an advisor and trouble-shooter for Converse's wholly-owned subsidiary, Coastal Footwear Corp., Canovanas, Puerto Rico.

Leo F. Belliveau

A resident of Winchester for the past twelve years, Belliveau is married to the former Miss Dorothy Connors of Winchester. The couple has three children: Judy, a graduate student at Yale University School of Nursing; Robert, a freshman at New England College and Mary Beth, a student at Winchester Junior High school. Belliveau will assume his duties at Andover, effective immediately. A successor to his position at Malden will be announced at a later date.

Jazz Concert At Pike

A Jazz Concert of considerable interest will be held in the Andrews Auditorium at the Pike School on Saturday evening, May 17, at 8 p.m. The concert will present music in the New Orleans tradition and all performers are skilled craftsmen. The event is planned as a benefit for the Pike School, an independent day school with grades nursery through nine, located on Sunset Rock Road. Jazz buffs from all communities are invited to join in the fun of the evening.

The motif planned by the parents committee in charge of arrangements will emphasize the New Orleans origins of jazz. Guests will be seated at checkered cloth covered tables and refreshments will be available for those who wish. There will be freedom to circulate throughout the hall for any who wish to visit friends or during the latter part of the evening for those who wish to dance.

The musicians have been brought together by Joseph A. Robertson, a trombonist of national reputation, whose home is in Lawrence. The musicians will include Joe Battaglia, piano; Herb Hall, clarinet; Leo Krauskas, drums; Art Bartol, saxophone and clarinet; Wally Livingston, bass and tuba; George Poore, trumpet; and Joe Robertson, trombone.

The general outline of the program will include relatively formal presentation up until the intermission. Following the intermission, there will be an opportunity for dancing and it may be that the musicians will, from time to time, work through the crowd.

The parents committee in charge of arrangements include Dr. Michael J. Kannan, Joseph A. Robertson, Mrs. Michael Segal, Mrs. William V. King, Mrs. Harry W. Healey, Jr., Mrs. Leon Kutz, Mrs. William H. Harding, Mrs. John W. Bolton, Mrs. Charles J. Cappetta, Mrs. Robert L. V. French, Mrs. Edward S. Miller, Mrs. Thomas J. Thomas, Mrs. David M. Thompson, and Mrs. Philip B. Weld.

For those who wish to attend, it would be advisable to purchase tickets, in advance. This may be done by calling the school. Tickets will be sold on a first come basis as long as they are available.

Gordon Players To Present Drama At Baptist Church

The Gordon Players, a dramatic ensemble from Gordon College, Wenham, will be appearing at Andover Baptist Church, on Sunday, May 18 at 7:30 p.m. They will be presenting Philip Turner's play "Christ in the Concrete City."

Now in their thirteenth year, the Players specialize in both traditional and experimental religious drama. Turner's play falls into this second category. Essentially, it is a passion play, portraying the Easter story from three points of view. First, it is the story of an actual historical event. Second, the Passion of Christ has universal significance, speaking timelessly to all mankind.

Third, the Crucifixion and Resurrection are events of personal significance speaking to contemporary man in his present dilemma.

The combining of an old story with the techniques of the modern experimental stage has produced a powerful contemporary drama that has been well received both in this country and abroad.

The Gordon Players are directed by Mr. G. Lloyd Carr, instructor of Bible at Gordon College. Mr. Carr has been associated with the group since his student days at Gordon. He has been active in dramatic production in local churches and national youth organizations since the early 1950's. In 1967 he directed the Gordon Player's tour production "The Cell" which was presented in several churches in this area.

Scientific Prayer

Before men could fly the first airplane, they had to do more than want to fly, they had to learn the LAWS of flight to set them free from the earth.

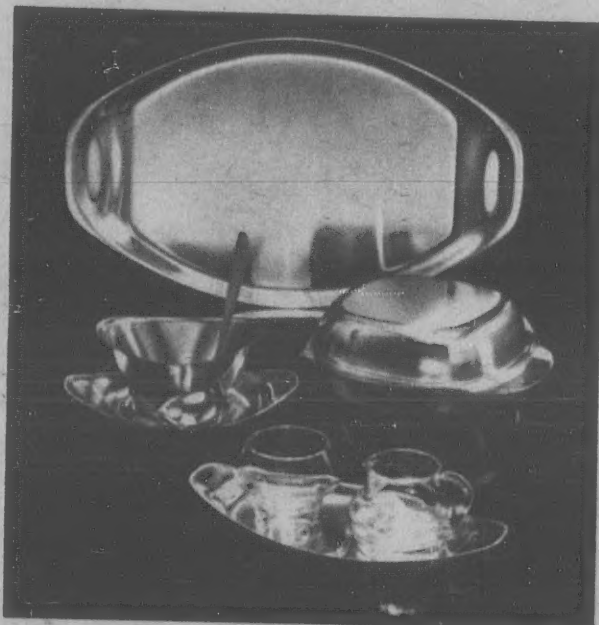

Similarly, when men pray and seem to receive no answer, can it be that they have something first to learn about prayer . . . and about the benevolent laws of God?

Hear Harold Rogers, C. S. of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, speak on "Scientific Prayer."

Inventory Clerk In Vietnam

Specialist 4 John H. Skulski, son of Mrs. John A. Skulski, 23 Princeton Ave., is an inventory clerk involved in the first semiannual inventory, Project Count II, conducted at the 400 acre U. S. Army Depot, Long Binh, South Vietnam.

Specialist Skulski and his teammates, as members of one of the 16 eight-man teams, will search for, find, count and record over 100,000 different items ranging from sewing needles to giant 40-ton tractors.

Much of this accounting work is done by computers, but because of the recent relocation of the Depot from Saigon and the vast influx of materials in the last year an inventory was necessary to provide the computers with accurate information.

Another reason for the inventory is to avoid excess stocks and plan for the post-war era, thus eliminating the stock-dumping that characterized the end of World War II.

The Long Binh Depot supplies all of the Free World Forces in the southern half of South Vietnam.

When the youth learned he was headed toward the police station, proceeded to beat up the older person, who required medical treatment.

The youth is apparently known by police and was requested to appear at the station Tuesday afternoon, but failed to appear. Police later brought him in and had the victim identify him as the person who committed the alleged assault.

Dantos further complained that these youths are drinking and are underage. He said that he has ordered them out of his store and also from around his retail property on Elm street.

The selectmen said they would take the matter up with police officials and take whatever steps necessary to curb the problem. Selectman Roger W. Collins said that he felt that steps must be taken not only to curb the problem at the "wall" but in other areas of town. In other words, curbing the problem in that locality may not be the final solution, since the group would probably move on to other areas.

Collins felt that if additional police help is needed to provide safety in the community, then action should be taken.

Selectman White said there was a danger there, since it presents a challenge to youngsters in its present state. The fencing is also requested to keep children from some areas of the project.

There is also some planting and grading to be done by the contractor before final funds should be released. This is not only on town property but public property as well.

White said that the deputy chief engineer was quite agreeable that such matters should be attended to and that the department would give it immediate attention.

Home Swimming Instruction Offered By 'Y'

The Andover YMCA will this summer again offer a program of swimming instruction courses which will be conducted in the private back yard pools of Andover residents. Informational material has already been mailed to all private pool owners of record and any others may secure material at the YMCA.

Pool owners may make their pools available either to individuals of their own choosing (friends, neighbors, relatives), or may offer the pool to residents of their section of the town.

In either plan the YMCA will provide experienced certified instructors and nominal fees will be charged to participants. YMCA Executive Director Dick Cate will welcome the opportunity to talk with individual pool owners about this opportunity to offer a service to their neighbors. Interested pool owners should call him at the YMCA within the week.

Last summer the YMCA conducted an experimental program with 35 light-session courses in seven different pools. Each pool owner made his pool available for only one morning or afternoon per week. A total of 280 children received instruction in 274 class sessions with a total attendance 2,249. A number of additional pool owners have already committed their facilities for this summer promising a much expanded program.

Fashion Show Conducted By Institute

"Hats off to Fashion" was this year's theme for the sixth annual Andover Institute of Business Fashion Show. The gala event with an audience of over four hundred was held in the grand ballroom at the Sheraton Rolling Green Motor Inn.

All models were students from Andover Institute's Personality and Grooming course. The course is a part of every girl's studies while at AIB whether her major is IBM data processing, secretarial sciences, or business administration and will be a part of the curriculum for all students enrolled for next year in fashion merchandising.

Suggesting the return of femininity associated with Jean Harlow and her floppy feminine hats, the "Hats Off" theme was well planned. Every detail was arranged for by Mrs. Frances Rogers, AIB Fashion Co-ordinator and her staff. Bouncy Herb Alpert music whispered musically in the background. The runway was lined with bright hats and colorful hat boxes donated by Sutherland's.

Bank Merger Announced

An agreement to merge the Bay State Merchants National Bank of Lawrence and the First Bank and Trust Company of Haverhill was announced today by Leslie N. Hutchinson, president of the Lawrence bank.

The merger agreement has been unanimously approved by the Boards of Directors of both banks. In the very near future the full details of the agreement will be forwarded to each stockholder of both banks. A two-thirds vote of the stockholders of each bank is required at stockholders meetings called to approve the merger. The necessary information for the stockholders is being forwarded to the proper regulatory authorities for approval of content prior to being mailed to the stockholders.

The corporate name of the resulting bank will be the Bay State Merchants National Bank, and the present office of the First Bank and Trust Company of Haverhill will become the Haverhill office of the new bank. It is expected that all personnel and bank officers of each bank will continue their employment.

Mr. Hutchinson expressed his belief that the best interest of stockholders, depositors and the communities involved will be better served by the larger bank resulting from the merger. It will provide Haverhill with another major commercial bank with more automated operations and expanded services.

The merger will establish the Bay State Merchants National Bank in Haverhill and marks the second major expansion of the bank's service area in two years. In February of 1968 a branch operation was opened in Ipswich.

Editorial Comment

The Wall

Andover has its wall — a prestigious piece of concrete in Elm square which was brought sharply into focus this week, due to those who congregate there on a regular basis.

Due to the assemblage of certain persons at the so-called "wall" a person fell victim to a beating on Monday.

Phidias G. Dantos, proprietor of a store and owner of a building in the area, brought the matter to the attention of the selectmen Monday night.

For Mr. Dantos, who informed the board that he has been eliminating these packs from his own property constantly, it was a courageous effort, for in this day and age, he could fall victim to these same, as he called them, "hoodlums."

The selectmen and police officials are scheduled to get together and do something about the problem of the congregating youths in the square.

The police have been chasing them from time to time, but they continue to assemble, either there, or in other areas.

Moved from the "wall" the youths congregate in Memorial park, cemeteries or other parts of town.

In addition to the vile language, which promulgated the assault on the innocent victim on Monday, the youths are reported drinking, and there are indications that drugs are being passed.

The selectmen noted Monday night that possibly additional manpower may be necessary to curb and control the problem.

We regret that taxpayer's money must be applied to such efforts, but if it is necessary then such must be the case.

No community can long tolerate young persons assaulting physically and verbally, responsible adults in our society.

Mr. Dantos noted that if such was happening in the daytime, then how could employees of the firm which is a tenant in his building, many of them women, chance employment on the second shift or late evening hours.

His comment is well taken.

We are hopeful that the selectmen and police officials will take a long, hard look at this problem and proceed with the measures which must be taken to curb the conditions.

No town can afford to have a situation like this. It will probably take more than cursory attention, since moving the drinking, and drug using youths from one area does not completely solve the situation. They move on to other areas.

Law enforcement has become difficult in recent years, due to Supreme Court rulings, but efforts must be made to curb these problems.

We hope the selectmen and police can come up with a solution, and soon.

The Dump

The selectmen made some important efforts this week toward extending the life of the sanitary landfill disposal site — say it like it is, the dump.

First it extended the hours to allow entrance at 7 a.m. daily and with three men operating the facility, this will permit proper operation with no overtime.

This provides more convenience for the public.

Next, the board appointed Highway Supt. Stanley Chlebowsky to be in charge of operations there. Within the past few weeks, under Chlebowsky's direction, the dump has taken on a new and cleaner appearance.

Thirdly, and the most important decision, was to pay to have the gravel being removed from the West elementary school building site trucked to the dump for stockpiling for future use.

In order to extend the life of the facility, quantities of fill will be needed. Over a span of years this would be costly, having to purchase the material at regular contract prices.

The selectmen have made arrangements with the contractor for the new school to purchase the material at a cost of 65 cents per yard — quite a bargain. Already 2,500 yards have been deposited at the site with an additional 6,300 yards on order.

We think the selectmen acted wisely in this matter.

The problem of solid waste disposal is becoming ever-increasing.

That Andover, in acting now, may be able to extend its facilities, is a move which would appear to be in the proper direction.

Off The Top Of The Desk

If you still need an excuse for wearing a mini-skirt, here's a beauty:

It could lower your chances of having a traffic accident.

What you wear can make a difference in how well you drive, according to an insurance company whose Drivotrainer system is used to teach driving at 650 high schools and colleges. And there's nothing like the leg freedom of a short skirt for easy braking and accelerating.

The firm notes that the number of traffic accidents involving women motorists has climbed faster than hemlines during the past decade and that one of every seven distaff drivers is likely to be in an accident this year.

While safe-driving habits are your best bet to remain in the accident-free majority, sensible clothing can help, the insurance company suggests.

For many years all the attention seemed to be on women's fashions, but now men's fashions seem to be getting attention. First it was the turtlenecks, then the Nehru and similar outfits.

The attention hasn't actually shifted from the feminine appearance, but it seems that the male attire has suddenly taken on new stature.

What Our

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN

Recently I went by plane to Washington, D.C. It was a long time dream realized. To see our historic shrines, Lincoln's Monument, Washington's Monument, Jefferson's Monument all at one end of the Memorial bridge, looking into the Arlington Cemetery where the Lee Mansion, high up on a hill with a view across the bridge and the monument was in-

Also scheduled for fall appearance is a bright pink hunting jacket.

At the Western Electric Merimack Valley Works plant in North Andover, a cavernous warehouse building is under construction. The building is now enclosed, but to give an idea of the enormous space to be provided, there are such items as pickup trucks, graders and backhoes still working inside the building.

When completed, there will be an additional 133,000 square feet of floor space added to the North Andover complex.

For historical nomenclature it has all one could desire and for interest there are many places to see and things to do.

KEEP OFF

By W. A. Leavell, Ph.D.

Not many things really bug me. With so many problems in the world around me I guess I have become rather complacent. This doesn't mean I don't care but rather that I have become more selective in what I care about.

I care about some of the things our young people are exposed to on many of our college campuses today. Some of the mental midgets, both among the students and faculty, that infest colleges throughout the country have cloaked themselves in what they refer to as "Academic Freedom" and seem intent on destroying our system of government.

For the most part, these hostile offsprings of our affluent society have nothing constructive to offer in place of the American way. They just want to destroy for the sake of destruction.

Recently I had occasion to talk with a group of these young rebels. The fact that they had a gripe and wanted a change was not shocking. That is the foundation of our system. With the right to gripe and strive for change, our youth can help continue the progress the American way of life has made during the past. Change is one of the cornerstones of our society.

What shocked me was the lack of acceptance of the great progress we have made in recent years. To hear some of our youth tell it, anything would be better than what they have today. They even go so far as to talk about the great advances of other systems of government. They seem to be well instructed in the short comings and faults of our system and almost completely ignorant on the good points. Students tend to follow the lead of teachers so it would seem that some college teachers are teaching the wrong things or at least stressing the wrong points.

Lets review some of the facts. While our system and the whole American way of life is far from perfect, when you compare it with the rest of the world today it is hard to understand why anyone would want to destroy it.

No system of government or society in recorded history has done more to help people than ours. Our investment in people, the basic "Human Capital" on which our system is founded, has been monumental and the results so outstanding that they are hard to record.

In the past 20 years America has more than doubled its total output of goods and services — from $300 billion to $650 billion. It is estimated that this will increase to over $1 trillion by only 1972.

We now produce over 30 percent of the world's entire output of goods with only six percent of the world's population. One fourth of all U. S. families now make over $10,000 a year.

Our effort to help our people has not been on the basis of such wild communist goals as a "Five Year Plan" or the "Great Leap Forward." With all the billions our federal government has spent and squandered in recent years under so many plans to help those who need help, the field that has probably received the least federal funds has proved the greatest boon to our people.

In America, education has become the nation's chief business. An estimated 30 percent of our country's total physical capital is now tied up in schools and educational material. Expenditures on formal education in the U.S.A. have risen from $3 billion in 1937 to $54 billion last year. We spent more last year on education than the total national budget amounted to in 1950. The $54 billion we spent last year represents only buildings, equipment and salaries of chartered schools. If we include educational TV, on-the-job training and the complete educational program the amount would be about $200 billion last year.

Some 57 million people, more than one-fourth of the population of our country, are presently studying fulltime. This is greater by ten million than the total population of England. Seventy two percent of our young people graduate from high school. Half of all our high school graduates go on to college. This country has a greater percentage of Negroes going to college than the percentage of whites in Britain, Germany or France.

Some over-liberal students and teachers like to point with concern to the concentration of wealth in large corporations. The fact is that income is more equitably distributed than at any other time in our history.

Come on young rebels, take a look at the facts and you will see that this country has not done so badly by its youth. It isn't perfect but until something better comes along, it is still worth fighting for. The smart will agree. The rest don't count.

Teacher Appointments Made

Schoolmen heard recommendations on school personnel resignations and appointments at Tuesday night's school committee meeting, and among them received a letter from Miss Dorothy Kyle, Central School fifth grade teacher, stating her intent to retire at the end of this year. Miss Kyle, a Punchard High School graduate herself, is completing her 35th year of teaching fifth grade students in Andover.

The school committee granted
Mrs. Martha Walsh an extension of her leave of absence, and accepted Louis Annesse's resignation of his editorship of "Your Schools". They accepted resignations from Marion Morelli, West School fifth grade teacher who is moving out of town. Junior high school teachers Anthony Tem-malo, in English, and John Tracey, in industrial arts, to move to schools in other communities, and Elaine Williams, kindergarten teacher, to pursue graduate studies.

Official resignations were also approved as a formality, for three teachers whose appointments had been approved at the last meeting, but who have decided not to sign contracts. These were Barbara Broderick, in elementary, Barbara Finn, as librarian, and Stephen Hood, in elementary physical education.

In new appointments, Gordon Wood was approved as an English teacher at the high school, at a salary at $9,800, $10,300 upon completion of his next degree.
Wood received an AB degree from Brown University, an MA from the University of Massachusetts, a C.A.S. degree from Harvard in 1968 and intends to complete his doctorate in education in 1970.
Wood has had six years experience in Chicopee and Brookline.

Mrs. Patricia Dye was hired as East Junior High social studies teacher at a salary of $7,400, pending completion of her master's of Arts in Teaching degree from Salem State College. Mrs. Dye is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University.

Howard Tozier has been hired at $8,900 to teach physical education at the same school. Tozier is a BU graduate of 1961, with additional study at New York University. He has had eight years of teaching experience in Andover, Berkeley Heights, N. J. and Beverly.

Mary Howard, a Mary Baldwin
College graduate who expects her Ed. M. degree from Boston University in August, is hired at a salary of $7,400 as a West Junior high English teacher. She has been a student teacher at Lexington High school.

At the elementary level, four new appointments were approved:
Susan Delaney, as a first grade teacher at Central, at $6,700; Miss Delaney expects her BS from Lowell State in June, and has been a student teacher in Wilmington.

Margaret E. Jacobs, a 1967 graduate of Boston University, who will teach elementary school at $7,100, after two years' experience in Quincy; Marion Russell, who will come with a BS from Boston University, with student teaching in Lincoln, at $6,700. Mrs. Sheila Zeder, a 1958 Adelphi College graduate who will be a Sanborn School Grade 1 teacher at $7,100.
She has had two years experience in Hicksville, N. Y., and has substituted in Andover schools.

The committee approved the full-time appointment of Claire Nicolosi, half-time kindergarten teacher, as a teacher at West School at a salary of $7,700 and changing Carol Reid from part-time to full-time as dental hy-gienist, at $4,600.

When the school committee heard recommendations for new guidelines for the holding of contests, drives or outside projects which they had requested from a committee of secondary school principals, they liberalized them to insure that such activities will be student initiated, and participation voluntary.

The committee agreed with High School Principal Philip Wormwood who said that the greater interest students have today in involvement and the trend toward greater student participation make existing school regulations on drives too restrictive. The issue had come up when Wormwood was unable to okay high school students' plans for a UNICEF fund drive for Biafra under present regulations.

The following guidelines for contests, drives and outside projects will now apply at the secondary level, with elementary level up for discussion at the next meeting:

1. Any such activities should be student-initiated, carried out by students, and have the approval of the student council or other representative student body, and no activities shall be permitted in which student participation is not voluntary.

2. Such activities should not interfere with the regular educational program.

3. Any such activity should have the permission of the school principal.

High school graduation will be on Friday, June 13, outdoors. Principal Philip Wormwood told the school committee on Tuesday night, with Saturday the big day in case of rain. Wormwood also said that plans were under discussion to move the awarding of prizes to the Awards Assembly, so that graduation would not be such a long ceremony.

Superintendent of Schools
Edward I. Erickson reported that Roger Johnson has been appointed clerk of the works for continued renovation of the East Junior High School under funds voted by the town over a year ago. Less than half of the amount has been spent.

Erickson said that former Town Manager Richard Bowen had suggested procedures so that the school department, school committee and acting Town Manager Wendell Matheson can plan priorities for this summer's work.
Erickson said that several meetings have been held already to consider the principal's requests, and a report will be made at the next meeting.

The next school committee meeting, on Tuesday, May 20, will consider a report on this year's summer school plans, released time for next fall, teacher training, in-service training and seminar workshops.

so lovely.

The National Capitol Building stands out like a tremendous welcome to one and all. It thrilled me and it will thrill you. The famed Potomac River and all the bee hive Washington, D. C. activity makes our Capital City of the world so important. Plan to see Washington and you will say as I did, God save America, and maybe you will wonder as I do, why the colleges throughout our land are in rebellion, and would destroy our beautiful America and its way of life. "Breathes there a man with a soul so dead who never to himself hath said, this is my own, my native land."

Robert V. Deyermont

P.S. It's not my native land, but I've lived here so long I feel native and am grateful for the privilege of being an American by choice.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN
(The following letter has been forwarded to the Board of Health.)

We have been thinking and wondering why a Board of Health of all people should think it ethical to deliberately add a deadly poison to the public drinking water. We are sure an accumulation of poison in one's system is no advantage to one's health. Internal organs should be considered as well as teeth. There are more accurate ways provided for dental care than the Public Water Supply, especially proper nutrition.

The last Story Hour of the season will be held next Thursday, May 22, at 3:30 p.m. Miss Elizabeth Russell, Children's Librarian, will tell two stories, a Cornish tale, "Spinning Plate" and Hans Christian Andersen's "The Old Man is Always Right." Story Hours for Littlest Listeners at both the main library and Ballardvale Branch will conclude next week for the season.

Doll Exhibit

During the month of May, the Children's Room has on display a fine collection of dolls made in many foreign countries.

Included in the exhibit are dolls from Italy, Brittany, Greece, Russia, Chile, Israel, Crete, and Norway. Pilgrim dolls, American Indian dolls, and Amish dolls made in the United States are also on display. The Children's Room has several books concerning the hobby of doll collecting.

Dime Novels

The dime novel, a most popular reading material at the turn of the century, is the subject of the new exhibit in the main reading room. More than 30 rare editions of dime novels have been loaned to the library by Mr. Stanley Butcher, 4 Washington Avenue. The soft paper novels on display range in age from Beadles Dime Library series of "Kit Carson, Jr. - The Crack Shot of the West" published in 1878 to "The Boy Rifles" of 1912. Also included are the fabulous tales of Frank Merriwell, Nick Carter, Deadwood Dick, Jesse James, and Rose Casey, the female bushranger.

The dime novels will be on display through next week. Be sure to see these examples of the reading taste of your fathers, grandfathers, and great grandfathers.

Questions
Recently another library in Essex County called us to find the date of the Great Molasses Explosion in Boston for one of its patrons.

A long search of almanacs, historical encyclopedias, indexes to periodicals, and histories of Boston gave no information. However, one of our reference librarians remembered reading an article about the explosion several years ago in "Yankee" magazine. Sure enough, in the January, 1965 issue of "Yankee" is a long article about the Boston Molasses disaster. The date was January 15, 1919.

Census Bureau To Take Survey

Questions about second jobs and overtime work and pay will be asked in households of this area by Census Bureau interviewers May 19-24, Director James W. Turbitt of the Bureau's regional office in Boston announces.

Answers obtained will be used by the U.S. Department of Labor to estimate the number of people throughout the Nation with second jobs, how long they work, how much they earn, why they take second jobs, and the kinds of work they do. Persons working overtime will be asked whether they receive premium pay for their overtime work. These questions supplement the monthly queries about employment status that determine national employment and unemployment figures.

Questions about participation in adult education also will be included in the interviews to provide data for use by the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) in determining the need for and the availability of adult education courses throughout the U.S.

Households to be visited here are part of a national sample of all U.S. households. Facts obtained about individuals are confidential, and the data will be used for statistical purposes only.

Bancroft PTA Plans Meeting, Sale, Fair

Bancroft PTA will hold a business meeting on Wednesday, May 21 at 8 p.m. at the school.

The nominating committee will present nominations for officers for the 1969-70 term.

The evening's program will be organized around two areas: the transition from a traditional structure to an open-concept building, and the steps being taken to better fit the educational program to the individual needs of each student.

Earl Simon, Bancroft Principal, will make a general presentation, followed by team presentations at each grade level in the loft.

The PTA is presently organizing a bake sale for May 23 at the Andover Co-Op and a Book Fair to be held June 9.

Mrs. Brian Paul Magrane

Magrane - Lee

A nuptial Mass at St. Luke's Church, Westboro celebrated the recent marriage of Miss Pamela Ann Lee of Boston and Westboro and Brian Paul Magrane of Lynn.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank D. Lee and the late Mr. Lee, and the granddaughter of Mrs. M. A. Burke of Poor Street. Mr. Magrane is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Maron Magrane of Lynn.

Vincent Burke Lee, USMC, escorted his sister to the altar where Rev. James A. Woods, S.J., Dean of Evening Division of Boston College, officiating and bestowed the Papal blessing.

The bride wore an antique ivory gown of reembroidered alencon lace in A-line fashion, accented with seed pearls and tiny crystals. The cathedral length veil of matching lace was mantilla style. She carried a single calla lily.

Her maid of honor was Miss Mary Ann Hewitt of Andover and Boston. Miss Sara Jane Burke of San Antonio, Tex., a cousin of the bride, Mrs. Phillip Kilpatrick, St. Paul, Minn., and Miss Nancy Jane Fisher of Boston and Newton Center were bridesmaids, and Miss Ellen Magrane of Lynn, niece of the bridegroom, Miss Joanne Burke of Andover, a cousin of the bride served as junior bridesmaids, with Mrs. Magrane's goddaughter, Julie Burke, her flower girl.

The attendants were dressed alike in lavender Empire-style chiffon floor length gowns. They carried purple violets.

John R. Magrane of Lynn was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Joseph F. Curran, Jr. of North Andover, Peter S. DiCicco of Lynn and John W. Whalen of Beverly.

A reception followed at Indian Meadow Country Club in Westboro. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lee wore a sea-jade silk worsted floor length dress with matching accessories.

The bride attended Andover and Westboro schools and graduated from Cardinal Cushing College. She is an assistant in the admitting office of the Tuft's New England Medical Center in Boston.

The bridegroom attended the Lynn schools, graduated from St. Mary's, Lynn, and attended Boston College. He is a sales representative for Smith, Corona, Marchant of Boston. The couple are Massachusetts state representatives to National Young Democrats.

After a trip to Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Magrane are making their home in Lynn.

Local Women Attend LWV Convention

Over 500 Massachusetts women attended the 39th convention of the League of Women Voters of Massachusetts May 13 and 14 to elect officers, adopt a budget, and select a program for study and action. Mrs. Howard Scharfman of Lexington was elected president of the state league.

One of the larger delegations at the convention came from Andover. Headed by Mrs. Philip Hanst, the group included: Mrs. Frederick Pease, Mrs. Carmine DiAdamo, Mrs. Donald LeRoy, Mrs. William Towle, Mrs. William Scheerer, Mrs. Arthur Pierson, Mrs. Hugh Arnold, Mrs. Donald Mulvey, Mrs. Joseph Podgorski, and Mrs. Frank Coliano.

Governor Francis W. Sargent, addressed the delegates Tuesday night. Mrs. Bruce Benson of Amherst, president of the League of Women Voters of the United States, was the other featured speaker.

The first General in the U.S. Army was George Washington, appointed June 15, 1775, by the Second Continental Congress.

Indebtedness Decreases

Massachusetts had a cash balance of nearly $60 million dollars for April, State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane announced today in his monthly report on the financial condition of the Commonwealth.

State Treasurer Crane also reported a decrease in the state's bonded indebtedness in excess of twenty million dollars. The total bonded indebtedness on May 1, 1968, Treasurer Crane stated was $1,061,707,000 while on May 1 of this year it was $1,038,899,000.

The April cash balance of $59,498,513.98, however, because of increased disbursements over receipts, was some $42 million less than the March cash balance of $101,813,863.25, the State Treasurer noted.

April's receipts, the Treasurer pointed out, were $343,155,434.31 but disbursements hit the $385,470,783.58 mark.

Town May Obtain Breathalyzer

The town is now qualified to receive a breathalyzer under a federal grant, following completion of a course by six members of the Andover police department.

Taking the course were Lt. Raymond Collins, Sgts. Hector Pattullo, Alfred M. Robb, Robert Parker, James Lynch and Patrolman Lloyd Belbin.

The course was given at the civil defense center in Topsfield under the auspices of the State Police.

With the arrival of the breathalyzer, persons suspect of operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol can be given a test through the machine to determine the alcoholic content in the bloodstream.

Special Meeting Wednesday

A special town meeting will be held Wednesday, May 21 at 8 p.m. to act on two articles.

The first article is to allow the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High school to incur debt for an addition to the building.

The second article deals with land acquisition in West Andover and has been disapproved by the finance committee.

The Voke school article must be acted upon before the first week in June. Failure to act will mean the town passively approves the project.

The annual town meeting in March unanimously approved the addition, but the town of Methuen rejected the proposal, thus it has come up again. Approval is needed by all four participating communities, Andover, North Andover, Methuen and Lawrence.

ABOUT TO BEGIN. Aerial photo shows 580,000 square foot plant of the Gillette Toiletries Company in view looking eastwards with Interstate 93 in the foreground. The plant, roadways and parking areas cover 50 acres of the 150-acre site.

It's A 'Hot One'

Company's Coming - And Planning To Stay

Gillette Toiletries Co., will officially become a part of Andover next week.

According to officials of the firm, production at the new plant in the Lowell Junction industrial area, is scheduled to begin on Tuesday, May 27.

First product to begin process on the assembly lines is the "The Hot One," a self-heating aerosol shaving cream. Soon, process of Foamy shaving cream will be in production there, to be followed in short order by many of the other men's and women's toiletries which the company processes.

The $11,000,000 facility which borders on Route 93 and displays its emblem illuminated to the thousands of travellers along the interstate highway, has been completed pretty much on schedule.

The introduction of the firm to Andover was announced about a year ago and the Vappi Construction Co., has been working on completion of the project.

Eventually all of the work now performed at the South Boston, or Dorchester, building, will be moved to Andover. The Gillette Toiletries division is now a separate mercantile function of the firm, different from the Gillette Safety Razor Co.

As the scheduled opening date approached, workers were busy completing the assembly lines, touching up the various areas necessary in the final building production and placing spur railroad track which will carry the finished Andover products to all parts of the world.

Thomas E. Singer, president of GTC, in a message to employees this past week asked that they accept the challenge presented by the new plant and use the potential of the new factory to the utmost. Unlike the present facilities in Dorchester, the new Andover plant will permit production on a single floor, with the raw product beginning processing at the front of the building and terminating at the back where it will be ready for packaging and shipment.

The plant has been designed for safety and efficiency. There are explosion-vented roofs in some of the mix rooms where necessary.

Since the company's decision to locate in Andover, an information center has been formed at the Boston facility. This organization has been making arrangements to provide for those who will be moving from the Hub facility to Andover.

Arrangements have been made for car pools and other means to bring workers to the Andover plant.

Total relocation of production of all toiletries products is scheduled to be completed by December.

There will be several new products produced at the local plant. These are currently in the research stage.

The plant contains 192,000 square feet of manufacturing space, 334,000 square feet of warehouse space and 54,000 square feet to be utilized for offices and a cafeteria. It covers 50 acres, including roadways and parking areas, of a 150-acre site that will also allow room for plant expansion, the construction of new buildings and development for employee recreation.

When fully in production, the plant will employ about 800 people. The extensive use of conveyor systems to move raw materials and finished goods, automatic palletizing and de-palletizing and the semi-automatic mixing of product ingredients will be features of the Andover plant.

The Gillette Toiletries Company is the newest division of the Gillette Company. While all of GTC's manufacturing operations are to be moved to Andover, its research and development facilities will remain in South Boston. The company's executive offices are at 100 Charles River Plaza in Boston.

A Midway Expansion Could Solve Problems

A separate building between the senior high school and West Junior High, containing some large-area facilities for shared use, may be the best solution to some of the expansion needs of both schools. This is the suggestion a New England School Development Council consultants made to the school committee Tuesday night.

The building might house a large auditorium, a swimming pool and cafeteria facilities for West Junior High school. NESDEC officials Jack Sullivan and Dr. William Zimmerman, head of the consulting team hired to draw educational specifications for additions to both schools, told the committee that present core facilities at West such as cafeteria and library, are inadequate for a larger enrollment there.

The school committee was very receptive to the NESDEC ideas, gave them the green light to draw up educational specifications for the auditorium and pool, and suggested the possibility of including the school system's administrative offices in the third building.

The concept of a separate building for the large-area shared facilities seemed to have particular appeal to the committee, who reiterated their stand that both the auditorium, which the high school now lacks, and the swimming pool should be available to the entire community on a year round basis. Committeeman William A. Doherty pointed out to NESDEC officials that some of the citizens who had voted down the auditorium in the original high school plans, including himself, had done so because they con-

St. Augustine's Students Win Art Prizes

At a recent display of the art work of the students at St. Augustine's school in Andover, 61 entries were chosen to compete with entries submitted from all the schools in the Boston archdiocese. Of these 61, 29 were honored for display at the Seventeenth Annual School Art Fair to be held at McHugh Forum, Boston College, Friday, May 23, through Sunday, May 25.

At the closing of this public art fair, first prize winners will receive certificates at a special award ceremony. The second prize winners and those noted for honorable mention will receive certificates at a ceremony in their respective schools.

At St. Augustine's school the first prizes will be awarded to Mary Lee Hart of grade 4B, and to Philip Nikonchuk of grade 4A. Philip, who was injured at play on March 11 and confined to the hospital for several weeks is still immobilized in a body cast at home. He is able, however, to continue his class participation through a teletron home-school communication device and also receives private tutoring lessons. The art award is proof that Philip is still interested in keeping pace with his classmates.

Second prize finalists were: Andrea Black, Paula Caselden, William Harter, Lyse Letourneau,

Canine Capers Are Over

Local canines are in trouble! The dog control law, approved by town meeting in March has been approved by Atty. General Robert F. Quinn and has been in effect since Monday at 4 p.m.

The dog control officer, Donald V. Porter, 135 Chestnut St., is on the job, and, according to Chairman Robert A. Watters of the selectmen has already been handling some complaints.

The dog control law, somewhat more liberal than a full-scale leash law, provides for the picking up of stray dogs on complaint of residents.

Porter will be working under the supervision of Police Chief David L. Nicoll.

The selectmen Monday night ap-

Following the main service of the day, the parade will reform and march to the Memorial tower at Phillips Academy where a brief service will be held and John M. Kemper, headmaster, will deliver a eulogy and place a wreath.

The parade will then proceed down School and Central streets to the Andover Baptist church where it will disband.

There will be services at veterans lots in all cemeteries beginning at 7:30 a.m. at the American Legion lot in Spring Grove cemetery. There will be services at other cemeteries following the parade.

Special Meeting Wednesday

A special town meeting will be held Wednesday, May 21 at 8 p.m. to act on two articles.

The first article is to allow the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical High school to incur debt for an addition to the building.

The second article deals with land acquisition in West Andover and has been disapproved by the finance committee.

The Voke school article must be acted upon before the first week in June. Failure to act will mean the town passively approves the project.

The annual town meeting in March unanimously approved the addition, but the town of Methuen rejected the proposal, thus it has come up again. Approval is needed by all four participating communities, Andover, North Andover, Methuen and Lawrence.

White Honored

Selectman Sidney P. White was given a surprise birthday party Monday as he reached the age of 70.

White, who has served the town as selectman for many years and on other town boards and committees, was presented with a two-tiered cake by the noon hour associates.

At the cutting of the cake Monday, he devoured a single piece and offered the remainder to the first donor of a kiss. The cake did not last long on the table.
